

1.1.1

The New and Improved National Transportation Atlas Database

Presenter

Mark Bradford

Program Manager

US DOT/BTS Bureau of Transportation Statistics

mark.bradford@dot.gov

Co-Presenter

The National Transportation Atlas Database (NTAD) has been making transportation data freely available to the public since 1995. Recognizing NTAD as a useful tool in transportation planning and analysis, the Bureau of Transportation Statistics (BTS) continues to mold the NTAD to meet the needs of the continuously changing and evolving transportation industry. This presentation will talk about the many changes that have recently occurred with the NTAD and those that are planned.