Kansas 511.ksdot.org has moved its map to a mash-up of Virtual Earth and GeoMedia WebMap using GeoRSS feeds. Kansas made the decision to move to a more browser friendly environment. Public input drove the decision. Changing the platform also allowed KDOT to review the current website functionality and provide enhancements to improve the user experience of the website. KDOT is now also able to take advantage of the base geospatial information provided and updated by Microsoft, while still providing the public with real-time updates to KDOT road condition information.
